Amanda Duke is a Southern Californian actress, Renaissance Faire witch, SCA-dian combat archer, stagehand, and voice actress. She believes collaboration and teamwork make for the best art and overall experience for the audience and cast alike. This holds true whether she is in a theatrical play, being a comical witch to patrons at Port Deptford, defending her household by firing arrows at enemy combatants, assisting actor's with quick changes, or making audience noises with eight other actors in a sound booth for an anime. She adores the creation process of an artistic experience.
